

Condominium project planned for Braeside

Council gave first reading Monday night to a rezoning bylaw which will pave the way for a high-density condominium project in East Braeside. Alcan Design Homes has plans for a 168-unit condominium project on a 131/2-acre site bordered by Sir

Winston Churchill Avenue, the public school site, the ravine and the back of Bellevue Crescent. The size of the project may be cut down, however, as council also has prepared an amending bylaw to limit maximum density of such projects to 12 units per acre. Written objections to the proposed bylaws will be received by Secretary-Treasurer D. B. O'Connell in his office until 4:30 p.m. on Nov. 19. A public hearing will be held in the council chambers at 8:30 p.m. on Nov. 24, at which time oral presentations will also be heard. A recommendation from public works committee that minimum assessment be set at $5,700 per unit, including basement improvements and communal recreation facilities but excluding garages, carports and land, was referred to the Nov. 3 meeting of council as committee of the whole. An Alcan representative said an immediate start could be made on the project as it had mortgage funds available. The units are expected to sell for $19,000 or more. No indication was given as to the maximum mortgage per unit available from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

FATHER GEORGE PRIMEAU SEES A DREAM COME TRUE
... Guy St. Germain presents him with return ticket to Vatican

Parishioners honor Father Primeau

Marionville staged its own version of the television program This Is Your Life on Sunday, Oct. 26.

And the man of the hour was Father George Primeau, celebrating the 25th anniversary of his ordination as a priest.

More than 550 district residents and visiting dignitaries turned out to honor Father Primeau, and through the course of an evening program in the town's recreational centre, were treated to a complete review of the life of the man who in his own time has become legend.

And to show their appreciation of the man and the work he has done, the St. John the Baptist Parish Council presented Father Primeau with a return air ticket to Rome and the Vatican and $1,000 in expense money.

The Village of Malaga, which he once served, also made a presentation to him. One of the speakers during the evening told of Father Primeau's dream of winning a sweepstake "and being able to climb into a limousine

Bridge Club to start

After a year of relative inactivity, the St. Albert Bridge Club is attempting to make a fresh start.

"The club folded last year after four successful seasons," club director Gordon Dalman said Monday. "We had a lot of members move away and others just lost interest."

"But we started up again Sunday night with four tables and are hoping to build that to eight or 10."

The club operates from 7:30 p.m. on every Sunday evening in the basement of the Community Hall.

"Everyone is welcome, Mr. Dalman said. "We have enough qualified instructors to give beginners all the help they need."

People interested in joining can just show up at the Community Hall on Sunday nights or phone Rupert Haselgruber 599-3744 or Bud Ahronson 599-6945.

Council will call tenders on proposed covered skating rink

Council voted Monday night to call for tenders on a proposed covered skating facility to be situated in downtown St. Albert.

Specifications are to be drawn up for a complete package, including lighting, seating, washroom facilities, dressing rooms, boards and parking, but tenders will only be called on what their is money to pay for.

The town has a bylaw on its books which will provide for $75,000 and the arena committee is expected to ante up about $17,500 more.

The cost of the building and footings is expected to run in the neighborhood of $82,000, which will only leave $10,000 for extras.

"We have to take the bull by the horns," Councillor John de Bruijn said in making the motion to call for tenders.

"The Local Authorities Board says we can call for tenders, let's call for them."

He said the tenders should be for the complete building and deletions could be made "If it is found we can't afford some things."

The proposed skating facility will be situated on a strip of land beside and south of Imperial Lumber Company on Perron Street.

It will be 216 feet long and 120 feet wide.

John X Woodroffe, town planner, said there would be sufficient parking on the site for 150 vehicles, which would be more than enough if the building did not exceed 1,000 seating capacity.

Councillor de Bruijn will head a committee to assist staff in drawing up specifications for the building.

Once this is done, tenders will be called and council must put its stamp of approval on one before submitting to the LAB for its approval.

Council also gave first reading to a bylaw to rezone the site the building will occupy from commercial comprehensive to commercial class 1.

A public hearing will be held in the council chambers at 7:35 p.m. on the bylaw.

Council voted 7-0 on a recommendation by Councillor Frank Lukay that the town arrange for a soil investigation and a report to be made available to companies wishing to bid.

Council hoping to hold mill rate

Council wants to get an early look at the possibility of holding the municipal tax figure at 27 mills in 1970.

It instructed Secretary-Treasurer D. B. O'Connell Monday night to bring in by Dec. 1 a draft budget for general municipal purposes at 27 mills.

The budget will then be considered by council as a committee of the whole.

Councillor R. G. Wheatley chairman of the finance committee, said the 27 mills was a starting point. It could go up or down.

Councillor John de Bruijn asked if the finance committee, out of which the proposal came, had taken into consideration the increased assessment or had just taken the 1969 figure.

Councillor Wheatley said that the area would be a little bigger this year, and would cost a little more to administer.

Councillor de Bruijn, dissatisfied with the answer, was the only councillor to vote against the proposal.

Council rejects door-to-door meat steak, three pounds of round beef, three pounds of minced beef, a three-pound pork roast, three pounds of loin chops and a pound of bacon. The package would sell for 69 cents a pound.

Mr. Smith said through his lawyer, J. D. Nelson, that he would have his animals slaughtered at an abattoir of one of the packing plants in the city. The meat would be Canada approved.

He said he had set up a meat-cutting plant on his farm and it would be inspected by the Sturgeon Health Unit.

Councillors John de Bruijn and Frank Lukay supported the application as they felt there was a chance Mr. Smith would locate a shop in St. Albert if his business thrived.

Mr. de Bruijn said the licence could be reviewed at the end of the year.

Mayor Ray Gibson and Councillors Bob Russell, Rene Kambooroff, R. G. Wheatley and J. J. Bakker, however, voted to uphold development officer Jim Roberts' recommendation for refusal.

Mr. Smith said he has obtained permission from the County of Strathcona and Municipal District of Sturgeon to sell his meat there.

DEREK LUCAS RECEIVES TROPHY
...from sports chairman Bob Forand

Derek Lucas golf winner

The Kinsmen Club of St. Albert recently held its annual golf tournament at the Sturgeon Valley Golf and Country Club.

For the second year in succession Derek Lucas was the winner with a net 71. The 1967 winner, Rusty Pollard finished in a tie for fourth place.

Low gross honors went to Bob Lister. After a shaky start Lister settled down and finished the back nine with a 39 for a total of 86.

Other prize winners included Terry Hendrigan, Fred Calkins, Bruce Daley and Gary Edwards.

Council still seeks answers from RCMP

Councillor J. J. Bakker's war with the RCMP is not over.

A letter was read to Council Monday night from Superintendent W. B. Irving, commanding officer of the Edmonton sub-division, in reply to a council request for RCMP procedure in the investigation of non-fatal motor vehicle accidents.

Supt. Irving said standard investigational procedure applies.

"Our investigations," the letter stated, "are made with the object of establishing, among other factors, whether an infraction of a provincial statute or municipal bylaw has been committed."

This did not satisfy Councillor Bakker.

"What," he asked, "is the standard investigational procedure." And he presented a motion that the RCMP be asked to supply this information.

But maybe, someone might have whispered, the Vatican should be warned about just what to expect.

That's the kind of impact Father Primeau has had on the communities in which he has served. He arrived, one said, in a cloud of dust. He never allowed it to settle.

Father Primeau comes on strong, but always with a single thought in mind. Get the job done. Nobody this night reported one that had failed.

Father Primeau thanked the parish council and all others connected with "organizing this demonstration."

"I can say that since I was ordained in 1944 that I've had a good time," he said.

"People say there are many sacrifices in the priesthood. I think there are maybe more sacrifices in married life."

"There have been rough times for you and for me, but I hope we will continue to work together for the glory of God and toward making better communities."

Proceedings opened at 3 p.m. with a concelebrated mass with Bishop Edward Gagnon of St. Paul presiding as main celebrant.

An open house reception was held in the basement of the recreation centre immediately following the mass.

The evening program opened with Miss Juliette Richard, principal of St. Paul Elementary School, telling of Father Primeau's sojourn at Mallard from 1950 to 1953.

Walter Van de Walle took over to tell of his days in Legal, from 1944 to 1947 and 1958 to 1966, the latter term which saw great growth in the village's recreational and cultural activities.

Art Stapleton, mayor of Morinville, spoke of Father Primeau's time there and the effect he has had on the town.

"There are only twokinds of people," he said, "those who lift and those who leave. For every 20 who leave, there is only one who lifts. Thank God for Primeau."

Mr. Stapleton said Father Primeau was the agent to bind together the people of the parish regardless of creed, color or religion.

Gordon Taylor, minister of highways and transport for Alberta, who nicknamed Father Primeau The Fireball Priest, related several anecdotes about his driving and also his ability to scrounge.

Then, turning to a more serious vein, he said:

"Today too many people oppose this and oppose that. They should follow Primeau's example, never be against anything, be for something. He thinks positively."

He said Father Primeau never asks for anything for himself; it is always for some community or to help someone who is in need.

"In a world where everyone seems to say, 'what's in it for me?' It's refreshing to see a man who asks 'what can I do for others.'"

Bishop Gagnon and Father Berube, who was pastor at Legal from 1944 to 1947 with Father Primeau as his assistant, also addressed the gathering.

Mrs. Louis Mercler of Edmonton, father's sister, also spoke briefly. Father Primeau's sisters, Fernande and Marguerite from Vancouver, were also on hand for the occasion.

Other Dignitaries attending the celebration were Mayor R. M. Gibson and Mrs. Gibson of St. Albert; Mayor Leon St. Martin and Mrs. St. Martin of Legal; M.L.A. Keith Everitt and Mrs. Everitt; Mayor Ivor Dent of Edmonton; Judges Roger Bezil and Andre M. Dechenne; and E. T. Wiltshire, supervisor of public libraries, and Mrs. Wiltshire.

A telegram was read from Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau and other messages from Premier Harry Strom, Mayor Gibson, Walter Kaasa, director of cultural development; Anthony Jordan, archbishop of Edmonton.

Guy St. Germaine made the presentation on behalf of the parish. Mrs. Maljeau made the presentation from Mallard.

Mat Tellier was master of ceremonies. Pete Montpetit was the star of two skits put on by the Village of Legal, taking the part of Father Primeau. The skits were under the direction of his wife, Lucienne.

The Thibault High School choir under the direction of George Lavallee sang five numbers and students from Legal also entertained with song.

Man: "Is this the Acme Insurance Agency? I want to increase the insurance on my building by $150,000."

Gal: "Yes, sir. Do you want fire insurance or hurricane insurance?"

Man: "Who can start a hurricane?"

Don Wilson loses fight in Montreal

Sixteen-year-old Don Wilson of St. Albert was building up quite a losing streak before Saturday night.

He had lost decisions to a seed bion his father's farm, a pellet gun and a young scrapper from Montreal.

Saturday night, however, he snapped it with a unanimous decision over Lyle Cadran of Rocky Mountain House on a fight card in Leduc.

Don, fighting in the 119-pound class this year, had little trouble handling his less experienced opponent.

A week previous, however, he had his hands full in Montreal as he lost a split decision to Paul Collette of that city.

With only a very short training stint under his belt, Don ran out of steam in the late going.

The short training stint can be directly attributed to a rather disastrous summer.

A short burst of temper turned into a long period of pain when the kick he delivered to a feed bin left him with a broken ankle.

Later, he caught his finger in a pellet gun, losing a nail and getting a cut that required five stitches to close.

There is a possibility Don will be fighting again in Fort McMurray this coming Saturday and his father, Keith, said an effort is being made to arrange a rematch with the Montreal fighter.

This match would be the headliner of a card the R Gym in Edmonton in planning for the Kinsmen Field House in Edmonton next month.

Father Jan School menagerie growing

In keeping with the spirit of the new science curriculum, providing children with real rather than vicarious experiences, Father Jan School has collected an extensive menagerie.

Lack of funds did not deter the teachers and students, Principal John Kaminski noted.

In order to obtain the latest addition, a squirrel monkey, students contributed more than $15 in nickels and dimes.

Every weekend a draw is made to decide which student will be able to take the monkey home.

Mr. Vargo, who teaches four classes of Grade 4 and 5 children at Father Jan, says having animals at the school encourages young students to ask questions and observe, at first hand, other types of living beings.

This practice of inquiry and observation helps the pupils to learn process skills in conducting investigations, which is an essential part of the whole elementary

A Natural Gas Service Reminder from Northwestern Utilities, Limited

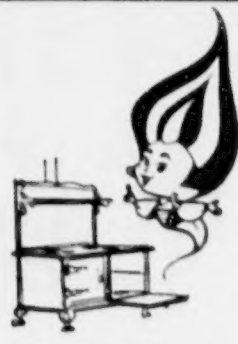

Give Your Heating System a Safety Check-up

Normally, your natural gas appliances and heating system operate with little care or maintenance. However, an annual check-up will ensure full efficient operation and complete comfort. To help you inspect your heating system, use this handy guide.

CHECK YOUR CHIMNEY:

Loose mortar, soot, and other debris may accumulate at the base of the chimney obstructing free passage of the products of combustion. Watch that ice and snow on top of the chimney do not cause blockage.

RANGES SHOULD NOT BE USED TO HEAT A ROOM:

Do not use your kitchen range to heat a room. Use a proper heater designed for the purpose.

CHECK ALL VENT PIPES:

Examine all appliance vent pipes. A dislodged vent may block the end of the pipe, or permit exhaust to enter the room.

BE ALERT TO DANGER SIGNALS:

Smarting of the eyes, nose irritation and unpleasant odors are indications of fumes in your home.

FRESH AIR SOURCE:

Be sure there is a source of fresh air in your home. Do not keep your house "air-tight". Your gas appliances, like you, need air.

P.S. Note re furnace filters!

Now's the time to check filters on your natural gas furnace. Filters that are clogged with dust and dirt cause heat loss, and can cause damage to your furnace. Furnace filters should be replaced or cleaned at least twice a year.

Legion takes on new look

The St. Albert Legion Hall has taken on a new look over the past few weeks and officials are hoping it will help bring out present members and also bring in some new ones.

The club at present is operating only Saturday nights from 8 to midnight, offering darts, cards, dancing and refreshments.

"We have only 80 members, although we are getting quite a few transfers from the city," House Chairman Brian O'Kell said Monday. "We need 200 members to obtain a standing beer license."

He said only about 20 members had been turning up for the Saturday night functions but felt it would be more with the new decor of the hall.

Red and gold wallpaper has been applied with pre-finished mahogany covering the lower four feet throughout.

Swedish ball fixtures have been installed to replace the bare fluorescent lighting and an ornamental planter has been installed to separate the washroom facilities from the main hall.

The artificial greenery was donated by Woodward Stores (Edmonton) Ltd. One of the members also donated two rubber plants.

A piano has been purchased and is expected to be the centre of many sing songs.

Mr. O'Kell said that in the very near future part of the kitchen would be utilized as bar space, allowing for more convenience in obtaining refreshments.

He said the Legion was also in the process of getting a sign for the top of the building and a flag pole, which it is hoped will be ready for Remembrance Day.

TABLE TENNIS
Supervision of this very popular program is becoming a problem and parents of the boys and girls who are playing table tennis are again urged to volunteer their services as either coaches or supervisors. Each Tuesday and Thursday evening finds the same two or three faithful members of the executive of the Hercules Sports Association overseeing the activity. Parents, is this fair? The tables are there and the bats and balls and up to 50 boys and girls attend each evening and they very obviously are enjoying the game. But they do need supervision - as every parent knows. If enough parents volunteered it would mean being "on duty" once or twice a month - depending on the response. It would be unfortunate if the activity had to be discontinued simply through apathy on the part of parents. So let us hear from you - phone the department of parks and recreation at 599-6601. Table tennis is held each Tuesday and Thursday evening in the Clubhouse for both boys and girls. The 10 - 12's play from 7 to 8 p.m., and the 13's and over from 8 to 9 p.m.

BASKETBALL

This program has been temporarily discontinued. It is possible that it will resume within the next few weeks in a new location which will be announced in this column. Resumption will depend on adequate supervision being provided and this in turn will depend on the co-operation of the parents of the participants. Parents who are interested in the continuance of this program are asked to phone the department of parks and recreation for information as to how they can help. The coaching by Mr. John Field is of the highest calibre and the boys (10 - 16 years) who participate in the program are fortunate to have the opportunity of playing under his guidance.

SQUARE DANCING

The St. Albert Saints and Sinners will be holding their next dance on Saturday, Nov. 1st at 8:30 p.m. in St. Alexander Mackenzie School.

The Beginners' Club meets on Friday evenings in the Clubhouse at 8:30 p.m. These are instructional sessions for beginners and for those who feel their square dancing has perhaps got a little rusty.

The president of the Square Dance Club, Mr. Gordon Main, or his wife would be pleased to answer any queries regarding either the Saints and Sinners or the Beginners' Club. Their phone number is 599-8086. KINSMEN MINOR HOCKEY
On Saturday, Nov. 1st registrations for hockey will be taken at St. George Simpson Elementary School from 9 a.m. - 12 noon. The fee is $3 and includes insurance. No registrations will be taken after Nov. 1st.

In Lighter Vein

A husband who was doing the shopping for the family, after paying for an order of calves brain, sarcastically asked the butcher: "Are you sure these are calves brains?"

The butcher replied: "Of course! What kind of brains did you think they were?"

The customer came back: "At the price you are charging I thought they might be Einstein's."

This Aberdeen-Angus beef bull, showase Eric Eagle, has smashed all Canadian performance records for the breed. A product of the showase herd at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, he gained weight faster than any other Aberdeen-Angus bull in Canada in any year.

Rapeseed demand holds firm

New export sales of wheat confined to a cargo of two to Oct. 23rd were slow being Northern to Japan, a few parcels of bread wheat to the Continent and 50,000 tons of durum to France. However, there was further good business in rapeseed with Japan buying daily for a total of about 28,000 tons and some sales to the Continent, but the quantity was not disclosed. There is still widespread interest in this oil seed, despite the advance in price, and this includes North Africa and Pakistan. The USSR still has not appeared as a seller of sunflower seed oil and while the United States Department of Agriculture reports a five per cent reduction in the Soviet crop compared to last year, private estimates from sources we believe reliable place the shortfall at 20 per cent, and their harvest is also late because of adverse weather. Other factors contributing to the demand for rapeseed are the poor crops in Poland and East Germany and the sharp reduction in fish oil production in Peru.

The northern half of Alberta has again been plagued with bad weather and only a limited amount of combining was done this week. The Peace River district suffered the most with snow and freezing rain bringing harvesting to a virtual standstill this year. On a provincial basis there is still about 40 per cent of the wheat, 35 per cent of the oats, barley and flax and 40 per cent of the rapeseed still to be threshed.

Because of the low delivery quotas in effect and congested conditions in the country, farmers were able to market only 9.4 million bushels of all grains and oil seeds which include 2.1 million bushels of wheat, 300,000 bushels of oats, 5.9 million bushels of barley, 100,000 bushels of rye, 300,000 bushels of flax and 700,000 bushels of rapeseed. Outward shipments from country elevators to terminals and mills were 6.2 million bushels and this left stocks in store country elevators at 345.6 million bushels, which leaves little or no working space.

Angus bull sets record

Eric Eagle bred and owned by the Canada Department of Agriculture, put on weight at the astonishing rate of 3.93 pounds a day, during the 140-day test period. His weight per day of age comes to 3.16 pounds per day. This gives him an adjusted yearly weight gain of 1,154 pounds. Eric Eagle was sired by Glenmore Jumbo Eric a bull purchased by CDA from Glenmore Farms at Red Deer. His mother, Ruby of Black Eagle was purchased from E. Perry of Roxanville, Sask.

The showase herd at Ottawa was purchased as a display center to show visitors, many of them from other countries, the quality and type of animals available from Canadian farmers. Aberdeen-Angus is only one of many beef and dairy breeds on display.

What kind of nitrogen fertilizer gives you the best all-round performance?

If you need a high analysis nitrogen fertilizer, then we hope you know all about Anhydrous Ammonia.

It's used quite extensively in this district. Perhaps because the Elephant Brand Dealer does most of the work! He has the specialized equipment for rent or he'll do the complete custom application with his large, fast applicator.

Anhydrous ammonia is the ideal fall fertilizer. The soil holds the ammonia against leaching or run-off. This is because it's injected under the soil surface where it's held fast at freeze-up. In the spring, it spreads through the root zone and goes to work on your hungry young crop.

Next time you're in town, ask your Elephant Brand Dealer the above question. Bet he'll tell you all about Anhydrous Ammonia.

Town council briefs

Ken Klipper, representing a private enterprise organization calling itself the St. Albert Ski Club, made application to council Monday for permission to construct a temporary clubhouse and a ski tow in the area of the rodeo grounds.

Development officer Jim Roberts recommended that the application be approved with the condition that the building be on skids and not be placed as a permanent building.

He also said if there was to be a charge for the ski tow, which there will be, they should make application for a business licence in the amount of $1 per year.

Council voted 7-0 in favor of his recommendations.

The Ski Club still has to negotiate a deal with the Kinsmen Club. The Kinsmen, who had given the club permission to use their land, had not known it was private enterprise.

Councillor J. J. Bakker, not known as a booster of the St. Albert Chamber of Commerce, had words of praise for one of the organization's projects Monday night.

He thought it had done a fine job of putting together a brochure on the town.

Councillor Rene Kambouroff, a member of the chamber, said he would carry along Councillor Bakker's kind words, although they might produce a bit of a shock.

Rene Kambouroff will represent St. Albert on the board of the Sturgeon Health Unit.

He accepted the appointment at Monday's meeting.

Board to rent instead of buy

The St. Albert Protestant Separate School District has decided it is cheaper to rent typewriters than to buy them.

The board voted at a recent meeting to obtain 12 Remington electric typewriters on a straight lease basis with replacement every four years. The cost will be $1,276 a year.

Other alternatives the board considered were:

Purchase, $3,900 plus service;

Three-year lease purchase, $5,724 including service;

Two-month rental then purchase, $5,628 including service.

The typewriters are for the Paul Kane High School.

I HAVEN'T READ THIS ONE YET!

The Chicago Public Library was destroyed in the Great Fire of 1871. Its present collection dates back to 1872, when Queen Victoria and many of her countrymen donated 8,000 books to the fire-stricken city.

No Joy in the Market-Place By Jack Scott

I feel it in my bones that it is pointless to write this ill-tempered column. Still—who knows?—it might just catch the eye of one of those disgruntled people who are accountable for this black mood. If not, it will be therapeutic for me. But enough! On with the grouching!

For most of last week my wife and I were on a shopping spree. We're remodelling Offhand Manor, as I mentioned in an earlier column. Walls are coming down. Rooms are being re-shaped. A new fireplace is going in. We are running amok with do-it-yourself plans.

So off we went, hippy-hop, to make our selection of various panellings and floor coverings and assorted hardware and we were like a couple of kids headed for the candy store. For days we prowled the shops and department stores, appraising, selecting, comparing, touching, feeling, squinting. And in no time at all the fun of it was no longer there.

In all my life I'd never run into such an unbroken series of sour, bored, disagreeable, unco-operative, ho-humming, put-upon salespeople, seemingly determined to make their lives and ours as miserable as possible.

At first I thought — and hoped — that it was simply coincidence. But before we were through I had to concede that it was a pattern, a fact of life, that the market-place has come cold, joyless, dismal.

Time after time the same treatment. Men and women not really interested in the wares put in their charge. Unfriendly with the goods and products that occupy all their working hours. Lacking even a token of enthusiasm. Unable or unwilling to advise or recommend or suggest. Blandly indifferent. Often downright reluctant to fulfill any function but to wrap the goods and point the way to the credit department.

Oh, there were exceptions, of course, notably in those smaller specialty shops where we made contact with an owner or partner or clerk with some genuine interest in the enterprise.

On two particular occasions we had the pleasure of being attended by men who were honestly interested in our project and its problems, who had ideas from their experience and who matched their enthusiasm with our own. A clerk in one builders' supply store bundled us into his car and took us out to a new home to see the kind of fireplace brick he figured would go well with the room we've in mind.

But seven out of ten were zombies, holding back until they were actually approached with an enquiry, sometimes unable to disguise their irritation at our indecision, desultory in their 'this is what we have take it or leave it' attitude. I hate the cliché phrase, but it was the only one that seemed to fit: Couldn't Care Less.

It must be, I suppose, a matter of pride and I suspect that is becoming the element that's missing all too often in those who directly serve the public.

Perhaps there's a feeling that the rewards in pay or prestige or the possibilities of advancement are beneath those of other jobs. Maybe there's a combination of all these things to explain it.

But surely there must be some compensating reward in encountering and helping people who look to them with trust for such basic things as good taste or special knowledge or familiarity with the goods they handle. And surely — especially in a department store — such an attitude would not only make the work seem worthwhile and engrossing, but would lead to promotion as it does in any other line.

I don't want to wrong those men and women who are the exceptions, but this was our experience. The days may be gone when the customer is always right. If that's the case we've lost another of life's little pleasures.

JACK SCOTT COLUMN

The scene at Father Jan School at noon hour and recesses recently resembles a rumble in the alleys of New York. But it's all in fun. It's the season when youngsters play horses and tanks and gather bruises and grassy and torn trousers. And probably, when they get home and mom sees the damage, a few words of wisdom.

Permanent press garments

Just the other day, I was reading an article about permanent press — the answer to all our ironing problems!

Well, it was so interesting that I thought most of you homemakers and especially "ironing-clothes" haters would appreciate its findings. The findings were on the proper care of permanent press garments.

Now — all of us dream of a truly NO-IRON garment — one which can be washed, dried and worn without even a touch-up with the iron. Well — the garments or materials bearing the label — "Permanent Press" or "Durable Press" are the most successful finish to give us a no-iron garment.

You'll have to keep in mind that durable press garments are only "durably pressed" if they are cared for in the proper manner!

One incorrect way of laundering a durable press shirt is: 1st - Wash by hand in HOT water, then wring out to remove excess water and hang up to drip-dry. The disastrous result is a shirt that is so badly wrinkled that it has to be ironed to be worn.

Another incorrect washing method is using COLD water and washing the shirt by hand or machine. The use of cold water doesn't clean satisfactorily or remove any wrinkles put into the fabric during use.

You'll also find that if you machine wash a shirt in VERY HOT WATER and tumble dry it — that it may need pressing after 8 - 10 washings. So back to the ironing again.

You're probably asking— PAGE 14

well how do you clean soiled permanent press garments and have no ironing touch-ups? Well here's the answer in six easy steps.

1. Launder garments before they become heavily soiled and soon after soiling. 2. Pretreat heavily soiled areas with a concentrated liquid detergent or a paste of a powdered detergent.

3. Turn garments inside out to reduce frosting. Frosting is the color change which results from rubbing.

4. Wash garments in cool water that will remove soil — and I didn't say COLD water. So, if hot water is necessary to remove soil, use it, but remove garments as soon as the spin cycle is completed.

5. Tumble dry garments with the drier set at a "Wash and Wear" setting.

This cycle uses cool air in the last five minutes of its cycle. Remove garments as soon as the cycle is finished and avoid over-drying.

6. Do not over-load the washer or drier.

If you follow these six precautions this will ensure a wrinkle-free garment.

REMEMBER to read the manufacturer's label before you decide to buy a permanent press garment. Only use Chlorine bleach if recommended by the manufacturer. If bleaching is necessary, an oxygen-powdered bleach may do the trick — BUT first read the label to see what it recommends.

Now — what does the future hold in store for us?

Here's what research has to offer:

1. Permanent Press fabric of wool and cotton blends. 2. Stretchy permanent press garments — This fabric would be blend of cotton and stretch nylon — it would be useful for slacks.

3. Research is soon to offer Permanent Press garments that can be altered, at such places as hemlines and sleeve cuffs.

Some companies now put out a spray which temporarily removes the permanent press finish. After the alteration is made, the finish is brought back by the heat of an iron.

Trademarks to look for — which indicate a Permanent Press finish are: True Press, Kor A Tron, Mar Vel Press, Never-Press.

INSTANT SHOWERS!

A portable shower in a suitcase is now being marketed by an American firm. The instant shower kit gets pumping power from a car battery or house current.

Five gallons of water provide a four-minute shower.

The new leaflet "Automatic Transmissions" examines some of the sharp practices carried out in this field of repair. It is available free of charge from the Edmonton Better Business Bureau to anyone who sends a stamped addressed envelope. Better Business Bureau members can obtain the leaflet in quantity.

There are 31 grandchildren. A special guest at the dinner was the Hon. Gordon Taylor, who, as a long-time friend of the family, proposed a toast to the couple and conveyed congratulations from the premier.

Other out-of-town guests attended from Radium, B.C., Gypsumville, Man., Calgary, Slave Lake, High Level and Ft. McMurray.

During the open house

Mrs. Cunningham was presented with a ring set with the birthstone of each member of her family as well as her own and her husband's. Mr. Cunningham's gift was an easy chair.

Concluding the weekend celebrations, Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham renewed their marriage vows in a Cree mass at St. Joseph's Cathedral Sunday afternoon, followed by a reception in the church hall.
